BUT WHAT IS IT?

Businesses are connecting everything you can think of to the internet - cars, vending machines, white goods, cameras, wind turbines and even cattle!

SO WHAT?

Rather than thinking about IoT as just a way to connect 'everything to everything', you need to consider the value this technology can add to your business by supplying the service and support that your customers want.

With the plan.portal you'll have everything you need to quote, connect and service IoT SIMs, with the click of a button.
